Soap Sense

In buying Toilet Soap
two important factors should be considered

First—Purity.

In selecting our stock we have made a specialty of obtaining only the purest vegetable oil soaps, which do not irritate the skin and which insure a good complexion.

Second—Odor.

Our soaps are perfumed with the most delicate flower oils. They speak for themselves—AND WE HAVE THEM UP.

Pure Castile Soap, 20c. per lb.
Infanta Delight, 3 bars, 35c. per box
La France Rose, 3 bars, 25c.
Vesnal Violet, 3 bars, 25c.
We still have a few Toys and Dolls, left, which are going at less than cost.

THE CARNIVAL GREAT SUCCESS

Most Interesting Event Ever Held in Coleman. Large Attendance.

The carnival which was held on the Coleman rink on Monday evening was a decided success. The costumes which were varied as they were characteristic were the source of much amusement and appreciation.
The ladies who received prizes were handsome outfits and deserved the well earned decision of the judges who were Messrs. Evans, Ellis and Craul-ford. Masks were removed at 9.45 and a two hour's enjoyable skate was had.

Prizes were awarded as follows:—
Best gentleman's costume, D. Hlop, $10 prize; best comic costume, O. O-sen, $5 prize; 2nd prize, Homer Darknell, $5 prize; best ladies' costume, Miss A. Gates, $5 prize;

Thursday evening at the Crow's Nest Hotel. Mr. Otto Wise was groomsman and Mrs. W. L.
Bridgford was bridesmaid.
Rev. T. M. Murray officiated.
Mr. and Mrs. Good entertained the large company of guests who were present. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful presents.

THE OPERA

The Wonderland company presented Motion Pictures and illustrated songs on Thursday and Friday evening in the Opera house. Large numbers viewed these shows and all voted that they were excellent and that they would be pleased to see the same company back in Coleman again.

injuries. Sold by all dealers.

W. J. Bartlett is making final preparations to remove to Blainville where he will settle down and promulgate fact and write the news of that interesting town. Messrs. T. B.
Brandon and J. D. S. Barrett have disposed of the Enterprise to the above named gentleman.

A few minutes delay in traveling some cases of dizziness, which is the length of time it takes to go five or six feet often proves dangerous. The safest way is to keep Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and at the first indication of dizziness give the child a dose. Pleasing to take and always sure. Sold by all dealers.

The Coleman - Macleod Hockey Excur- sion.

Over 150 Colemanites journeyed to Macleod on Wednesday evening on the excursion that was put on in honor of the great hockey match between Macleod and Coleman. A large number of hockey enthusiasts from the other towns of the Pass also went.

The regular Coleman team played and did exceptionally well considering that that the ice was away below the standard size. The score, which was 10-6 in favor of Macleod, was no criteria of the game, as Coleman players were decidedly handicapped owing to the diminutive dimensions of the rink. The Macleod team will play in Coleman on Tuesday evening and every Colemanite should be in attendance, as this game will be the most important of the whole season.

Pincher Creek defeated the home team on Thursday evening on the Pincher Creek ice in a slow game which was snuffed at times by luciferous maneuvering on the part of some players who were bent on mischievousness rather than hockey.
The score was 3-2 in favor of Pincher Creek.

Pincher Creek plays Coleman on February 25th, at Coleman.

Come out and help the home in the final game as they are deserving of a good boost.

Gresack was the only one that won a home in Pincher Creek.

One of the excursionists on Wednesday lost his box in Macleod. For some reason or other he took them off and did not have time to put them on.

When the bunch reached Pincher Creek they were an dry that they drank all the gasoline out of an automobile.

ANOTHER PAPER FOR LETHBRIDGE

You want to be another daily paper to start in Lethbridge as soon as it is possible to get its going. Yesterday J. H. Woods of the Calgary Herald, probably representing the Southams, of Hamilton, Ont., bought out the news end of the Lethbridge News from E. Hagell. As soon as a building can be erected and a plant installed the Lethbridge Daily News will make its appearance before the Lethbridge public. Mr. Hagell will retain the job department.

AN ENJOYABLE MEETING

At the debate before the Reception and Debating club on Tuesday evening there was an excellent attendance.
The main program of the evening was preceded by a Scotch song by Mrs. W.
Watson which was admirably rendered and much enjoyed.

The evening's debate was upon the subject: "Resolved that the abolition of the House of Lords is in the best interest of Great Britain." The speakers were:

ABRUPTIVE—Mr. Hlop, Mr. Bow-
cott, Negative—Mr. R. Holmes, Mr.
H. Clarke.

The subject was well handled and the audience showed itself very appreciative. The judges, Rev. Mr. Mc-Mortie, Mr. Oulmette and Mr. James decided in favor of the arguments of the negative. The program for the 22nd was announced as being of a musical and literary character.

Lille Jottings

William Williams, son of W. P.
Williams, accidentally fell on the ice a few days ago and broke his collar bone.

Dr. Snyder is kept busy these days, many being on the sick list.

Mrs. J. M. Williams is at present visiting friends in Pincher Creek.

James May is on the sick list at present but we trust that he will be around soon.

On Saturday the 12th at the police court before Justice Pinkney, Chiffre Carla was charged with assaulting Antonio Pughall of Blainville by threatening to do him bodily harm with a knife. He pleaded not guilty but the charge was proven and the defendant was fined $15.00 and costs, the cost and fine being $20.00 in all. Counsel Hewart prosecuted.

FORMER RESIDENT OF COLEMAN DIES

Mrs. George Wilson Passes Away At The New Westminster Hospital.

There passed peacefully away at New Westminster, B. C., on Monday afternoon, the wife of George Wilson, of Coleman, at the age of sixty-two years. Mrs. Wilson was a native of the Highlands of Scotland, and left the old country in 1870 for the United States, landing at Illinois. After a stay of about six years, Mr. and Mrs.
Wilson determined to try the advantages of the great west and came out to the Nanaimo district of British Columbia, where they settled down for the space of nineteen years, when another change was made to Coleman.
After spending some time in Coleman,
Mrs. Wilson became slightly paralyzed in the right side, which caused her to be considerably crippled and despite the best efforts of specialists nothing seemed to alleviate her torture. Persistent watching of her kind husband and son were necessary and although at times seemed apparently improved still physicians entertained no hope of a complete recovery. In September last she became worse, so that it was considered advisable to consult the best procurable advice and Mrs. Wilson was taken to New Westminster hospital.
From that date there was little or no improvement and the end was daily expected, until Monday last the angel of death bore the spirit away and ended her earthly sufferings. Mrs.
Wilson was well known as a woman of a most lovable disposition and friendly character, and wherever it became her lot to reside she made hosts of friends, all of whom will regret to learn of her demise.

Mrs. Wilson leaves a sorrowing husband and son, who feel sorely the loss of a kind and affectionate wife and mother. The Minister extends his sympathy to the bereaved husband and son.

INTERMENT

The funeral of Agostina Carota took place on Monday afternoon at 4 P. M. in the Coleman cemetery. Some days ago Carota had his head crushed between a car and a chute in the mine and died shortly afterwards. Coroner Disney held an inquest which gave a verdict of accidental death. The following jury was empaneled: H. Gate, foreman; C. Oulmette, R. R.
Webb, J. Unsworth, W. L.
Bridgford and A. M. Morrison.
Services were held in the R. C.
Church by the Rev. Father de Wilde.

"You used to be an awful spend-thrift."

"Yep. But I ain't any longer."

"Ah! Reformed?"

"No—I spent it all."—Cleveland Leader.

An Irishman and a Canadian judge were one day travelling together through Canada. They were discussing the relative merits of Canada and Ireland, till at last the judge, getting angry at Pat's obstinacy in maintaining the superiority of Ireland, asked: "Now, in real earnest, wouldn't you be a long time in Ireland before you'd have the honor of travelling in a first-class carriage with a judge?"

"That could be no," quickly retorted Pat, "and you'd be a long time in Ireland before they'd make a judge of you."

A MESSAGE OF HOPE TO WORRIED MOTHERS

There is no other medicine can equal Baby's Own Tablets for the cure of stomach, bowel and teething troubles. They come as a message of hope to worried mothers as they make sickly, peevish, crying children bright and well. And the mother has the guarantee of a government analyst that this medicine contains no opiate or poisonous soothing stuff. Mrs. Maurice Murphy, Glasgow, Ont., says: "I think Baby's Own Tablets the best medicine in the world. I know of nothing that can equal them in curing stomach, bowel and teething troubles." Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

An estimate on a large scale, contemplating farming four sections, with steam plows, allows for a total expenditure before the first year of $12,000. At the end of six successful years the value of the land, equipment and earned profits from year to year will be $140,000. The estimate is conservative in every particular, and shows one of the greatest profit-making investments open to capital.

FLOGGING MADE HIM RICH.

Punishment of British Consul in Guatemala Brings Him Fortune.

It is not a method of fortune making that is to be commended, or one that will ever be very popular; but, nevertheless, it is a fact that great riches have accrued to some people as the direct result of their having been sent to jail—richer they have come than they were when they were sent there. There is the case of the British consul at San Jose in Guatemala, several years ago. Mr. Magee, by name, who died worth over $65,000,000, but who might not have been possessed of that number of cents except for the fact of the Guatemalan Government making a stupid mistake and putting him in prison.

He protected certain refugees from the fury of a mob bent on revolution, and for doing so the governor of the town put him in prison. Declining to recognize the authority of his jailers, and to conform to the prison regulations, he was flogged.

When the British Government got wind of this extraordinary affair they promptly sent a consular to the place, and threatened Mr. Magee with release.

He demanded $300,000 as compensation from the Guatemalan Government, but this was not forthcoming; and eventually he accepted in lieu of the money certain concessions, including the privilege of establishing a bank in the town and building.

In this manner he was given such an enormous advantage over his trade rivals that a period of great prosperity was the result, and it led to the amassing of his wonderful fortune.

SLEEPING VOLCANOES.

In Central Africa There Are Eight Which Are Comparatively New.

It is not very generally known that right in the heart of Africa, at the southern end of Lake Albert Edward, is a great range of volcanoes. They are eight in number, and, though it is true that, unlike Ruwenzori, they are not very high, the highest peak is over 14,000 feet. The highest of these volcanoes are particularly interesting on account of their comparative newness, whereas Prof. Wollaston in the Wide World Magazine, running through the middle of Africa there is a trench many hundred miles long, in which lie the great lakes Albert, Edward, Kivu and Tanganyika. Not far from the southern end of the volcanoes, generally called the Mumbiro, burst up through the timber of this trench and made a dam across it, with the result that some of the water, which formerly flowed into Lake Albert Edward and so into the Nile, was cut off and was forced behind the dam. As time went on the waters in the lake, which is now called Kivu, rose higher and higher until, not being able to flow over the barrier of the volcano, they formed the Bahr el Jebel, which runs the other way into Tanganyika.

Of the eight volcanoes only two show signs of activity at the present time. In the form of thin wisps of steam which may occasionally be seen; but a vast plain, a wide, shallow lake, a mid-storm curling through the mist, shows where a formidable eruption took place only a few years ago. There are hot springs scattered about there, and slight shocks of earthquakes are felt occasionally, so it is a safe bet that the Mumbiro volcanoes are extinct.

Old Railway Tickets.

The earliest railway tickets differed radically from those now in use. The looking clerk was furnished with a volume, the pages of which were divided down the centre by a perforated line, the outside half of each page was again divided into slips about four inches long by an inch and three-quarters wide. On the date of issue, and the volume, the pages of which were divided down the centre by a perforated line, the outside half of each page was again divided into slips about four inches long by an inch and three-quarters wide. On the date of issue, and the volume, the pages of which were divided down the centre by a perforated line, the outside half of each page was again divided into slips about four inches long by an inch and three-quarters wide.

One of these slips, duly filed in, was detached from the book and handed over to each would-be passenger in exchange for his fare. The traveler, having thus obtained his ticket, was passed on to the guard of the train by which he desired to travel. This official was provided with a kind of way-bill on which he entered particulars of all his passengers in much the same way that a parcel is served nowadays.

Incidentally the similarity of treatment did not always end there, the third-class passengers had to travel in an open carriage, frequently nothing more than a goods truck attached to a train which carried both passengers and goods, more or less indiscriminately.—Railway Magazine.

Tossed by Buffalo.

Sir Guy Fleetwood Wilson, the financial member of the Indian Viceroy council, returned to Calcutta recently during holiday in the Sunderbunds, where he had an exciting experience.

He had shot two buffalo, and freed a third, which he wounded badly. The infuriated animal charged Sir Guy, and tossed him into a wallow. He then turned his attention to the two shikaris, who killed the third buffalo, and, impaling the second on a tree, carried him round the marsh until he collapsed within twenty yards of the wallow in which Sir Guy Fleetwood Wilson was lying helpless.

Sir Guy escaped with a few severe bruises, and is able to perform his official duties. The shikari, who is in hospital, is recovering.

Addressed in Rhyme.

The humor of the parcel-post joke often takes the form of a rhymed address, of which the following is a fair sample. It accompanied a Christmas hamper destined for a London suburb: Haste, postman, haste, this hamper carry.

AN EXCELLENT REMEDY.

Will Break Up a Cold in Twenty-four Hours and Cure Any Cough That Is Curable.

The following mixture is often prescribed and is highly recommended for coughs, colds and other throat and bronchial trouble: Mix two ounces of Glycerine, a half ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine, compound each and eight ounces of pure Whisky. These can be bought in any good drug store and easily mixed together in a large bottle. The genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure is prepared only in the laboratories of the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, and put up for dispensing in half-ounce vials.

When the isothermal waves strike Alberta they turn north. This accounts for the fact that all northern Alberta is capable of growing abundant crops and supporting a tremendous population in comfort. When the Hudson's Bay land was transferred to the Dominion, the northern limit of the valuable area was fixed at 55 degrees. But it has developed that the area in Western Canada runs, and the Hudson's Bay land, had ice berry grows wheat will grow, and this berry thrives abundantly in the north of Alberta, away to the Arctic circle. And the farther north you go the better the quality of grain produced. Think of the great Peace river district, with its rich soil, you might say, winning the first prize for wheat at a world's exhibition. This was done in 1893 at Chicago.

A Polish coal miner in Ohio, biting into a slab of Pittsburgh mines pipe, struck a rivet and broke off seven teeth; but, being extremely hungry and having no money to buy actual food, he kept at his grim task, and a minute later he struck a stick of dynamite in the core of the same pipe and was hurriedly writing at his desk, next day, leaving a wife in Poland and another in Ohio.

It was raining outside, and little interloper Irma was in one of her worst, or at least most trying moods. Father, busily writing at his desk, had already removed her several times for bothering him with useless questions. "I say, what's that?" "A 'you mother'." "Honest, pa, this isn't a silly one this time." "All right, this time I'll let you go." "Well, if I don't of the world was to come, and the earth was destroyed while a man was up in an airship, where would he land when he came down?"

One Way of Paying.

Father Doolittle just tied the knot. He looked expectantly. The bride looked sheepish, and Pat, shifting from one foot to another, looked every bit as nervous.

"I—I don't like to be alone, father, but I changed me clothes in a hurry and left me wages in my coat pants."

Then he added, in a whisper: "Take me the silver and the gold, a plumber, and I'll show you how to fix the meter so 't won't register more than 40 per cent."

IT'S THE TALK OF THE COUNTRY SIDE.

HOW DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED MRS. SAMUEL THOMPSON'S DROPSY.

Her's Was a Terrible Case and the Doctors Were Powerless to Check It, but the Great Kidney Remedy Cured Her.

Holt, Ont. (Special).—All the country side about here is talking of the wonderful cure of Mrs. Samuel Thompson of this place. She was taken sick with jaundice, and though the doctor was called in she grew steadily worse. Her stomach was so bad she could not keep anything on it. Dropsy set in and she bloated to a terrible size. The doctor came three times, but her husband would not allow him to do it, saying that if she could not get better they might let her die in peace. Finally she dropped the doctor and took other medicines, but they did her no good. Her leg burst and the water streamed from it. Then someone told her about Dodd's Kidney Pills and so she asked her husband to get her a box.

After taking them a while she took a bad turn. Something would come up in her throat and she would vomit. The water would run from her mouth. But from that time she commenced to get better, and to-day she is a well woman. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Dropsy by putting the kidneys in condition to take the surplus water out of the blood. They always cure it.

Mind vs. Matter.

In one constituency a heckler drew disparaging attention to the "candidate's lack of inches." "What's the good of that, say you?" said he. "It's a man we want to represent us."

"Ah," said the candidate, "Where I come from we measure a man from the chin up. You evidently measure him from the chin down."

Some Differences.

A long-winded, prosy counsellor was arguing a technical case recently before one of the judges of the superior court. He had drifted along in such a desultory way that it was hard to keep track of what he was trying to present, and the judge had just vented a very suggestive yawn.

"I sincerely trust that I am not unduly interrupting you at the time of your case," said the lawyer, with a suspicion of sarcasm in his voice.

"There is some difference," the judge quietly observed, "between trespassing on time and encroaching on eternity."

Plain Talks to Women.

Children's Skin Troubles, Cuts, Etc.

Every healthy child gets them, and every mother has to "put something on." When you put an ointment on to a child's skin it gets into the blood through the pores just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach. Did you ever think of that? How important, therefore, that the salve or balm should be pure!

Zam-Buk is absolutely pure; contains no animal fat; no mineral coloring matter; no acid substances; no burning antiseptics—yet it is antiseptic! It is purely herbal, and thus meets all the needs of the skin in the most delicate and powerful way, without nature alone provides.

Children like Zam-Buk best because as soon as applied it stops the pain and the smarting of the itchy or sore place. Healing takes place immediately.

DIVIDE THE PROVINCE

The internal unrest and the political friction which was first created by the establishment of the provincial capital at Edmonton and since aggravated by the terms of the proposed agreement with Alberta and Great Waterways Road Co. has at last broken the hitherto untroubled surface of the political seas. The course of Premier Rutherford and his government could not but bring disaster upon their heads. A studied programme of northern expansion and northern enterprise rises at the expense of the southern part of the province was carried to the fullest extent. When an appointment was made in the south two similar were made in the north. The south was slaughtered to make a Rutherford holiday for the north.

A division of the province at the common line at Red Deer is the most satisfactory solution of the trouble. Each section will then devote its own taxes, its own revenue to the development of its enterprises. The Coleman Miner is not taking this view for opposition purposes as the Miner is liberal and the writer has always supported liberal administrations in the past. But it is so clear that only by subdividing the province as the Dakotas were done, can the solution of the present difficulty be overcome.

IT IS NOT GOOD BUSINESS

The real estate men have a grievance, and it is not about too high assessment either. It is like this:

A man with a piece of property to sell lists it with a number of agents and perhaps he forgets who some of them were. Presently a sale is made by one of the agents and the seller is quite satisfied and everything is lovely. Except for one thing.

In many cases he neglects to notify the other agents with whom he has listed the property that has been disposed of. Therefore in the course of time some prospective purchaser comes along and valuable time is spent in negotiating the sale and perhaps it reaches the stage of business when everything is ready for the transfer.

Mr. Real Estate Man calls up Mr. Original Owner and joyfully tells him that everything is ready for a sale. He is informed that the property has already been sold and the real estate man and the prospective buyer have lost all their time, just because one man neglected to tell the agents that he had disposed of his property.—Calgary Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES

We want no legislative scandals for Alberta, we want straight rules and a division of the province will accelerate the attainment of these.

An order revoking the post-office regulation requiring all office lobbies to be closed on Sunday may soon be passed as the towns and cities of the west are strongly protesting against such arbitrary treatment. People who before were in favor of the acts of the Lords Day Alliance are being turned against it as the new regulation imposed does away with no labor. The government must yield to popular demands.

The striking of the standing committees in the legislature again displays the duplicity of the government. The Hon. W. A. Buchanan who is a recognized authority on municipal matters and who was at one time suggested for a municipal portfolio was not even placed on the municipal law committee. C. M. O'Brien who absolutely knows nothing of law and who at the last election was unable to fill out properly his nomination papers was placed on the committee for legal bills. Every member is alright in his place but put him in his place.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE HOUSE

Edmonton, Feb 18.—In the Legislature yesterday Attorney General Cross gave notice that he would introduce a new act respecting towns. This act is taken as other municipal acts are from similar legislation in Saskatchewan. The improvement over the old municipal ordinance is that provisions with respect to powers and duties of town officers, mayor, secretary-treasurer, solicitor, auditor, town police, provisions regarding town elections, sections dealing with submission of money by terms and provisions regarding assessment and with proceedings to quash such bylaws and provisions regarding assessment and taxation in a town, are much more complete than in the old ordinance. The entire difference to town in the province is in the fact that the machinery of government in town will be very much more explicitly defined. The assessment method in the proposed act is much the same as the system at present in force at Edmonton. The provisions of the act being apparently modelled on the Edmonton charter in this regard.

The provisions with respect to poll tax are similar to the Edmonton amendments of some years ago. The provisions with regard to the sale of land for taxes are the same as those contained in other municipal acts and are based on the system in force in Manitoba. It has been adopted in all proposed municipal acts for Alberta.

The provision with respect to borrowing by way of debenture do not differ radically with those already in force save that the borrowing powers of towns have been increased from ten to fifteen per cent of assessment. The provisions of the municipal controlled elections acts apply to elections under the town acts in the same way as under other municipal acts. The changes made in the Saskatchewan act are matters of detail only and the whole is a very thoroughgoing revision of the present municipal ordinance.

The Attorney General's bill regarding the sale of chattels will also be introduced on Thursday. In all agreements in connection with agricultural machinery, there are a number of finely pointed and absolutely improper conditions which are never read by the purchaser and are never really understood if read. The new act makes nothing binding against the purchaser unless the court decide the claim made by the machinery company is absolutely fair and proper.

Another bill along the same lines will be brought in by Duncan Marshall Minister of Agriculture. The object of this bill is to render null and void any mortgages forming part of the purchase contract of farming machinery and to prevent machinery companies funding covenants against farms of purchasers, even though the purchase agreement provides for this.

Attorney General Cross also gave notice of a bill affecting roads and bridges. This is an act establishing a provincial rule of road, making all vehicles, etc. keep to the right. Heretofore there was no established rule.

He is also bringing in bill respecting married women. This act provides that any married woman whose husband dies, leaving a will, which gives her less than if he died intestate can go to court and get an order against the estate for the amount she would receive if there was no will. Under the new act a married woman gets larger share of the estate if her husband dies intestate in Alberta than any other province in Canada excepting Saskatchewan, which is equal.

There are many operations in the making of a garment that can only be thoroughly and satisfactorily accomplished by hand-work and in the 20th Century Brand tailor shops every operation that can be done better by hand than machinery is done by hand.

Successful men know how important Good Clothes are in the battle for recognition.

"QUALITY"

You will frequently hear of how well the 20th Century Brand garments hold their shape, no matter how hard usage they are given. The secret of their shape-retaining qualities is no secret at all; it is simply a matter of hand-tailoring, costly canvas, high-priced hair-cloth, silk thread, fine linings, careful inspection, a complete mastery of the details of fine tailoring and a determination to see that they are incorporated in every garment that bears the of 20th Century Brand garments is "Style," and in this respect they are admittedly superior to other makes. So authoritative have the styles bearing this label become that they are widely copied each season, not only by other wholesale tailors, but by exclusive custom tailors—a nice compliment to their excellence in this important detail of fine tailoring.

TAKING STOCK

From the east came wisdom, it is said; and the easternmost province of the Dominion, Nova Scotia, is showing its wisdom by "taking stock" of its forest resources with a view to inaugurating a business-like system of managing them. This inventory was begun during the past summer and was under the charge of Dr. B. E. Fernow, dean of the faculty of forestry of the University of Toronto, who was assisted by the Chief Fire Warden of the province and several trained foresters.

The southwestern part of the province, from Hants county westward, has been covered and it is expected that the survey will be completed during the coming year.

The total area surveyed during the past was about 8500 square miles. The cost was very low, averaging less than twenty cents per square mile.

Only a rough survey, or "reconnaissance" was attempted. Each member of the party was assigned a certain district and allowed considerable latitude in choosing a way to cover this to the best advantage. Time and expense were saved by utilizing existing records and information secured from well-informed persons, where these were found reliable, the field work consisting largely in checking the information thus obtained.

This information was then plotted in the field directly on large scale maps (two inches to the mile). Among the points recorded were the extent of the burned areas, the degree of cutting on cut-over areas, the condition of the young growth or "reproduction" and the character of the farming lands, meadows, etc., within the farming country.

Dr. Fernow's report as to the possible future of the forest is interesting and encouraging. He remarks: "Although the data on reproduction and rate of growth are not yet collected, it is safe to say that, if the fires are kept out (and apparently with the present organization still further perfected this can be done reasonably well) there is no difficulty in restocking by natural means, most of the cut-over areas, if not too severely culled.

In the pure hemlock-spruce stands all that is necessary is to remove the old hemlock thoroughly and cleanly to have the young growth of spruce, already on the ground, take its place."

He thinks however that incorrect ideas are often held as to the growth of spruce. The white spruce may, he says, when growing in comparatively open situations, make a sawlog in sixty years. The forest spruce, which is mostly red spruce, is of slower growth and will probably not average a sawlog in less than a hundred years.

To a large extent the different species are found to be localized. Thus the white pine is found most plentifully in Shelburne and part of Queen's, the hemlock in Annapolis and the spruce in Digby.

Heretofore estimates of Canada's forest areas, the stands of timber thereon and of the country's forest resources in general have been very largely guesswork. The action of Nova Scotia takes prominence as the first attempt on any large scale to substitute accurate information for this uncertainty. While no doubt errors have crept in, the estimates are at least based upon on exact knowledge; and that is far more than could be said of former estimates. It is to be hoped that other provinces of the Dominion will see fit ere long to follow Nova Scotia's example in this line of work.

AT THE COLEMAN OPERA HOUSE

"The Grass Widow" is the title of the opening bill to be presented at the Coleman opera house by the splendid Eckhardt Theatrical company on Wednesday night. The play abounds in bright and brilliant lines and is highly entertaining. It is beautifully mounted and rich with costumes and crowded with incidents and climaxes in a handsomely artistic setting and every act glitters with brightness. "The Grass Widow" has made a most profound impression wherever it has been presented and is highly praised for its genuine originality and high excellence. It is fascinating in theme and plot, fresh and vigorous in style and worthy in every way of the most careful attention on the part of any audience. The author's methods are the methods of human nature seen through the medium of a clear discriminating intellect. Though an inflexible realist, what he demands is not reality, not life, but the closest, tensest, most faithful translation of life. Not only is the story a remarkable one, but it affords opportunity for the highest kind of acting, which we are assured are embodied in all parts of the splendid Eckhardt company. The gowns worn by the ladies are said to be exceedingly rich, more handsome costumes have seldom, if ever been seen on the stage. The prices are very reasonable, being 25c for children, 50c general admission and 75c for reserved seats. Change of plays each night during the engagement. Give the Eckhardt company a rousing reception and show our appreciation when a first class company of artists visits the city—Reserved seats on sale at the Drug store.

THE FEBRUARY ROD AND GUN

The best side of the Canadian winter, the side that appeals to every inhabitant of our Dominion and countless numbers of our visitors—the snow-shedding trips of the north, receives prominence in the February issue of Rod and Gun in Canada, published by W. J. Taylor, Woodstock, Ont. A Canadian Snow shoe Song and A Winter Hunt emphasize the glories of a season in which all Canadians rejoice. There is plenty of variety in the number in addition to these articles including big game stories, duck and goose shooting, camping, protective work, fishing, etc., and no sportsman, whatever may be his particular inclination, can feel himself neglected. An endeavor is made to cover the whole Dominion in the best possible way and that a large measure of success is achieved is shown by this issue of the magazine. In addition to winter outings, spring, summer and fall expeditions are now planned and the experience of others given in the most pleasant manner in these pages, is not merely interesting but most helpful and of considerable advantage to all who seek to know more of the wonderful sporting advantages of our broad Dominion.

WORK AT BELLEVUE

The Bellevue mine has been made one of the most up to date coal mines in the Crow's Nest Pass. Their new steel tipples is now complete. A trial trip was made last Monday with very satisfactory results and in the course of a few days the tipples will be in constant use.

Mr. Lee, the superintendent of the improved box car loader informed our representative that the loader was strictly up to date and could load 3000 tons of coal in an 8 hours' shift. The electric fans are now working on the mine. This speaks well for the brilliant future of all the mines in the Pass.

If troubled with indigestion, constipation, no appetite or feel bilious, give Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets a trial and you will be pleased with the results. These tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and strengthen the digestion. Sold by all dealers.

COLLEGE WORK BUT A PART OF LIFE

Of all the erroneous and harmful ideas that young men and young women have, the worst is the pernicious belief that college is simply the stage which precedes the real beginning of life, and that the real life, and the real tasks are still to come. University life is not an introduction to life but a part of it, and a most important part of it. More and more, as the years go by, in the business as in the professional world, the stress is being laid upon the trained mind, able to grapple with the complicated problems of industrial and urban life. Those whose minds are not trained will be servants, who will not only have to obey someone else but will have to bear the added indignity of being told how to do the work. And the training of the mind, which will make a man a master and not a servant, is to be had only through hard work, intellectual work and by a utilization to the full of the great opportunities which a university training spreads out before one. To give that training, to help that mastery of one's mental powers, in which lies the secret of Midas and of Socrates, is the purpose and the aim of a university.—Woodrow Wilson.

Thirty Day Slaughter Sale OF Kootenay Fruit Lands

Laid instructed by the Columbia River Orchards, Ltd., to place on the market for quick sale their entire Central Park Subdivision on the Columbia River, Kootenay District of British Columbia, consisting of 66 Lots, at from $30 to $380 per Lot

$5.45 to $31.80 per acre

Terms: $10 cash and $10 per month. No Interest. Taxes paid until 1911.

On March 27th, 1909, Mr. J. D. Anderson, B. C. Land Surveyor, wrote us with reference to the Central Park property as follows:

The more I see of this particular block the more highly I think of it. There is no possible doubt but this is very high grade fruit land, and it is a pity that settlers are not already on it. It is so easy to clear, and the land is the characteristic high grade fruit land of this district, that it is sure to be in time, a very profitable tract. It compares very favorably with the Doukhobors' land at Waterloo and the McKenzie land at Champion Creek below Waterloo, held at $50 to $150 per acre.

Never before have B. C. Fruit Lands been offered at such ridiculous prices. Price is no object. These lands MUST BE SOLD within 30 days. The owners have given definite instructions to sell every lot regardless of price. This is, I believe, the first time the public has been given the opportunity to buy Fruit Lands at such prices.

Maps, surveyor's reports on each lot and application forms will be mailed on request.

HISTORIC IRISH PRISON

KILMAINHAM HAS NO LONGER ANY QUESTIONS.

Famous Irish Penitentiary Will Be Closed for Lack of Inmates—Its Known History Goes Back to the Troubles of '68, But An Episode of 1850 Is Its Most Famous Story—Entertained Politicians.

Fortunate Ireland, with a prison on her hands more than she needs, writes Tighe Hopkins.

It is Kilmainham, in the outlying township of that name in the city of Dublin. Thirteen years ago in a tiny volume called "Kilmainham Memories" I wrote of it: "The place is not great, but it has a great size of external features the lofty grey wall of Irish limestone about one-third of a mile in circumference is the most imposing. It is evidence also of a certain antiquity, since walls of this height are not given to modern prisons. Except for its strength the small main gateway is quite unpretentious; over it are the 'Five Devils' of Kilmainham—five writers of garages, symbolic of no one knows what."

When next some polished Britisher has an ugly word, Ireland only let him reflect before he gets it off that in the year of salvation, 1910, the General Prison Board was obliged to close Kilmainham because there were not in Dublin or the neighboring counties criminals enough to keep the staff employed. It is a fact quite worth remembering. I am not, of course, suggesting that Dublin will henceforth be the one capital in Ireland without a common jail. Mountjoy in another part of the town continues to receive felons, but the point to be pressed is that the huge establishment of Kilmainham is no longer necessary. Business has fallen; the shutters are going up.

What a sensation in London were The Times one morning to announce that the Prison Commissioners, having no further use for their solid and commodious premises at Wormwood Scrubs, were prepared to consider offers from promoters of garages or skating rinks. Something like this happens in neglected Dublin and nobody takes any notice. And Dublin is probably the only city of its size in Europe in which such a thing could happen. Crime as we know it in England is practically non-existent in Ireland. Our great guilds of crime—the bands of professional burglars and robbers, the financial con-men, the adept forgers, trained thieves, habitual levers of blackmail, bogus notaries, parsons, and the ladies of false, long-term practitioners, hotel and railway sharpers, "magmen," "hooks," and "choppers"—these are almost entirely so far as habitual and professional crime is concerned, there is not another as decent country in Europe. Perhaps in a general way the reader may now perceive how and why the long days of Kilmainham binds at last towards its close.

The long day—well, this is a matter of degree; the history of Kilmainham is not that of a Newgate in London or a Conciergerie in Paris. But Kilmainham belongs back to the Irish Parliament and to the pikes of '68. With the earlier annals of the prison I have not the least acquaintance. Illuminative documents rest no doubt among the archives of Dublin Castle awaiting the scrutiny of somebody. No Government of our day is concerned—at least, none need be concerned—to keep the secret of its prisons; for in the rule of to-day its imperfections notwithstanding the ironical cruelties of the past are fairly blotted out. Somebody will presently take his turn at the manuscript of Kilmainham, and if we get nothing else from them we shall surely be richier by a sheet of statistics that may perhaps recall some memories of the prisons of the French Revolution.

In the modern history of Kilmainham one episode stands out peacefully. The political weather of 1850 and onwards was, in the simple but sufficient phrase, "rough, with wind." The Land League was to the fore. Great in those days were the names of Gladstone, Parnell, and "Buckshot" Foster, the Irish Secretary—each named a battle-wound. The celebrated act for the Better Protection of Persons and Property in Ireland was passed on the day; under this act hundreds of persons of all kinds, orders, and quantities, became suddenly suspect, and into prison the suspect were swept in batches. Kilmainham entertained them. The crowd of common prisoners was emptied out southwards—into Mountjoy one may suppose—and the old jail was cleaned up for the reception of the suspected leaguers, members of Parliament, priests, lawyers, doctors, newspaper men, farmers, cattle-dealers, horse-dealers, shop-keepers, and persons from their ragged plots, Kilmainham, totally transformed, no longer recognised itself.

It is no way concerned to say that Kilmainham "entertained" the extraordinary assemblage of politicians. Loss of liberty is serious in varying degrees to all men, but to the disengaged suspects their captivity was tempestuous. The Ladies' Land League saw to it. The "retinue of British tyranny" was fed and wine from without the walls; I might almost say that they were garlanded, for their board was decked with flowers. Arrests and detentions, unjust enough no doubt, there often were, but the true and customary pains of prison not one of these suspects ever had a taste. For some few light remarks I passed upon the subject (fresh from a tour of local and convict prisons in England)—surely the real thing was to be seen) I was manly by one or two Dublin papers; but most of the questions, I fancy, had a relish of the joke. Certain among them had the time or taste to live in the dungeons of Kilmainham. And they knew, and they knew what it meant to breathe the real atmosphere of prison—not in Irish Kilmainham, but in English, Berlin, or poor Michael Davitt could have learned the use of lot from them.

THE GOOD-OLD DAYS.

Party Politics in the Palmy Times of Great Britain.

The moment Parliament is dissolved by royal proclamation, the clerk of the crown issues writs for a new election—writs that are little more than long before, and only need filling in with the names of the officials to whom they are addressed.

Nowadays these writs—except those for London—are sent by registered post, and arrive at their destination with a rapidity and certainty unknown in the days before the penny post was inaugurated. In those days writs sometimes went astray, and serious trouble arose. One sent to Norwich appears to have been a long time on the road, and the populace, knowing that a writ had been issued, and suspecting the sheriff of having wilfully delayed it, mobbed his house, and breaking in the door, dragged him out, and were for lynching him on the spot. Had it not been for the quick cessation of the writ of a certain John Danne, who rescued the unfortunate man, the sheriff would certainly have been murdered. Another Norwich writ arrived, oddly enough, on the day before the old sheriff was going out and the new one coming in. The latter declared that he, of course, should execute it; but the former objected, and the writ was in office when the writ arrived.

Neither would give way, so a deadlock ensued, until a messenger sent on horseback to London could bring the decision of the crown authorities. They decided in favor of the new sheriff, but in the meantime the election was delayed for four days. All election writs must be stamped with the Great Seal. In the days of Pitt the Great Seal was maliciously carried off by some persons who were anxious to delay an election. Now, a new Great Seal was made at the beginning of each new reign, the old one being then solemnly broken up. However, on that occasion it was felt that something must be done, so a new Great Seal was actually forged, and with it the writs were prepared and issued.

In the good old days of pocket borough a most extraordinary contest occurred at Galton. The electorship had but three voters—namely, Sir Mark Wood, his son, and his butler. In 1810, Sir Mark Wood, resigning, wished his son to fill his place. As it happened, the son was away, and Sir Mark had just fallen out with his butler. The latter, whose name was Jennings, out of revenge, refused to second his father's nomination, and instead, proposed himself as candidate. Naturally, the result was an absolute deadlock. Sir Mark was eventually obliged to come to terms with his refractory butler, whose nomination he seconded, in order to induce him to second his son. Matters being thus put in train, Sir Mark arranged with Jennings that the latter should resign, and the result was that Jennings (Whig) won.

A DRUMMER MISSIONER.

J. C. SIMON IS First President of the Canadian Gideons.

Mr. J. C. Simon, who has been appointed first president of "The Christian Men's Traveling Association," comes of German stock, but is a loyal Canadian, having been born in Walkerton forty-four years ago. He received his education at the schools of that town, and in 1888 he moved to Warton, where he and his brother established a firm manufacturing hardware floorings. About seven years ago he came to Toronto. The president of the new association is an ardent Conservative, and has always taken a rather active interest in politics, having served four years on the Town Council of Warton. In 1900 he was nominated as candidate for the Dominion Parliament for North Bruce, but he was forced to retire, owing to his heavy business duties.

Mr. Simon is a great worker by nature, and his big ambition has been to travel. This desire he has been fortunate in being able to fulfill, and he has seen fully three-quarters of the civilized world.

Mr. Simon is unmarried, and is a member of Cooke's Presbyterian Church.

The Bold Major.
It was the custom 100 years ago to purchase British army commissions for newly-born babies, their rank progressing as opportunities occurred. One of these fortunate infants was the son of Sir William Honeyman. One day a caller heard Lady Honeyman shout from her bedroom door: "Jenn, what's the matter? What's all that crying in the nursery?" And Jean answered: "Oh, my lady, there's nothing the matter. It's only the major (still an infant) crying for his parish."

Spurious Mummies.
Spurious mummies are made in France. Many of these frauds have been detected by the Roentgen rays.

The Birthplace of Napoleon.

There is some talk of establishing a small museum in the house at Ajaccio where Napoleon I. was born. A good deal of attention has been given, it appears, to it by visitors to Corsica of late. The house, according to a French paper, is a little old world Italian villa of yellowish plaster work and windows with shutters which are nearly always closed up. It has just the same outward appearance as the neighbors in the narrow street in which it is situated. A small garden, with palms, cactus and other semi-tropical vegetation, separates the house from the roadway. There is not much to single out the historic building as having any special interest, unless it is a marble slab over the doorway with an inscription: "Here was born, the 15th of August, 1769, the founder of the imperial dynasty." Westminster Gazette.

They Liked New York.
Now that the Irish aqueduct has returned from participation in the Hudson-Fulton celebration, it is ascertained that more than 300 deserters were left behind in New York. This town, coupled with the very heavy retainer allowance which master Sir Edward Seymour's ceremonial trip a costly little business. A fully trained blue-jacket costs the state on an average about £120. The action of the United States authorities in refusing to deliver up deserters from foreign warships in their ports may be "constitutional," but it is assuredly not calculated to encourage friendly visits. The moral is when next we send a friendly expedition across the Atlantic to make together that element which can be best spared from our navy and not to stint shore leave. —London Truth.

Foggy London.
In no German city has the loss of sunshine due to fog yet equaled that prevalent in London, where the foggy days during the three months December, January and February have increased from eighteen to thirty-one during the last half of the past century.

Steam Pipes.
The pounding noise of steam pipes can be obtained by attaching to the pipes a small check valve, set to admit air, but not to release any pressure.

The Mosquito's Purpose.
"Every one of God's creatures is here for a useful purpose. Now, what do we learn from the mosquito, Tom?" asked a teacher trying to evolve the word patience.

"We learn from the mosquito," answered Tom, "how easy it is to get stung." —Life.

Smoking Land.
English farm lands that have been tilled continuously for centuries will produce an average of thirty bushels of wheat to the acre every year.

Jack Tar.
Few people know the reason why sailors are so often called "Jack Tars." The name dates from the days of gossipping Samuel Pepys and is an abbreviation of the word "tar-paulin." It came into use to distinguish the real practical seaman, who knew his business, from the "swell" officer, who did not always.

The Word "Mile."
The word "mile" comes from the Latin "mille," a thousand. A thousand paces of a marching soldier made the Roman mile.

Smoke and Lightning.
On the approach of a thunderstorm French peasants often make up a very smoky fire in the belief that safety from lightning is thus secured. Its some this is deemed a superstition, but the custom is based on reason, inasmuch as the smoke acts as a good conductor for carrying away the electricity.

Worried.
The man in the mood is now writing in pain. Because he's so stinging, the stinger! He's afraid that some one in an aeroplane will stop there and ask for some dinner! —New York Times.

A Year and a Day.
"I always feel a pity for the poor young men of Greenland, those Eskimo chaps, you know," said Chereche. "No matter if those poor fellows keep their New Year's resolutions a whole year people would throw it up to them that they could hardly stand by their principles for two days. Sad, isn't it?" —Chicago Tribune.

BANKER AND SOLDIER

LIEUT.-COL. MASON LEAVES MILITIA AFTER LONG CAREER.

Late Commander of the Fourth Infantry Brigade Has Managed to Be Present at All the Active Service in Canada in His Time—Was in Northwest Engagements and Flanders Raid—Was at Queen's Jubilee.

The retirement a few days ago of Lieut.-Col. James Mason, with the title of full colonel, closes the active career in the Canadian militia of a much-valued and highly-respected citizen soldier, a man who, besides being a busy financier, showed courage and mettle on more than one field of battle. Col. Mason is a native of Toronto, where he was born in 1848, and has lived there since 1868. After winning the place of head boy in the Model School he entered the service of the Home Savings Bank, which later merged into the Home Savings & Loan Co., and of which Col. Mason became and remained for many years managing director. Five years ago the Home Savings & Loan Co. evolved into the Home Bank, which Col. Mason is general manager and a director.

As long ago as the early sixties the future colonel took up soldiering by serving for three years in the Queen's Own Rifles during the Fenian Raid troubles. In 1882 he was gazetted captain in the 6th Royal Grenadiers, the regiment which enjoyed so many years of his service. During the Northwest Rebellion of 1885 Capt. Mason commanded a service company of the Grenadiers. At his own request he was the first company to cross the Saskatchewan at the Fish Creek fight and he then volunteered to rush with his company the final position held by the rebels in the coulees, all previous attempts to carry it having failed, but Gen. Middleton refused to allow the charge; too much risk, he considered, and too many lives already lost, he said. The opinion was expressed by the Earl of Minto, then known as Lord Melgund, chief of the General's Staff, who was present, that had Capt. Mason's offer been accepted the charge would have proved successful, and as none of the enemy in the rifle pits, including Gabriel Dumont, the military leader of the rebellion, could in that event have escaped death or capture, Riel could have made no stand at Batoche. Lord Melgund's opinion was shared in by other members of the General's Staff present. As it was, the rebels held their position until night came on and then got away. At Batoche, the seat of the rebellion, Capt. Mason was severely wounded while advancing with his company on the rifle pits with which that place was so well defended, and whose capture virtually ended the rebellion.

Capt. Mason was promoted until he became lieutenant-colonel, and was placed in command of his regiment in 1888. He was one of the Canadian officers sent to the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in 1897, and was appointed second in command (in actual command at the important parade)—of the battalion of colonial infantry—600 men of every color from black to white, drawn from all parts of the Empire, speaking many languages, but all trained to act on the executive word of command in English. This assembly was the forerunner of that gathering that was fighting for the Empire in South Africa two years later.

Col. Mason was presented to her late Majesty Queen Victoria, and received from her an autograph photograph in the dress worn by her at the procession on the 22nd of June, the great day of the celebration. He retired from the command of the Grenadiers in 1899, and was early in the year following appointed to the command of the 4th Infantry Brigade, which he has held ever since, and from which he is now retiring with the rank of full Colonel. He also commands a composite brigade of infantry at the Quebec Tercentenary.

Col. Mason wears the general service medal with many other honors. He was one of the founders of the Canadian Military Institute, and for two years its president. Apart from his military and financial services, Col. Mason is well known as an ardent Imperialist and one of the founders of the Empire Club.

A Musical Grand Old Man.
One of the grand old men of British music was the late Dr. Henry Prout; but it is by his text-books and theoretical writings, which are famous throughout the world, rather than his compositions, that he will be chiefly remembered. Yet he wrote much in his time, and, like Beethoven, in this respect at least, was never without his note-book. By his pupils and acquaintances Dr. Prout was beloved for the simple and enthusiastic nature which went along with his vast learning. He was his special divinity, but that does not mean a greater worshiper of that master over head.

A Wonderful Fan.
Mme. Pompadour had a wonderful fan. The lace cost about $10,000, and it took some years to make the five sections, each one containing a medallion so minute as to be almost invisible to the naked eye. It is now in existence, broken and apart, but still showing traces of its great beauty.

A Locust Pestilence.
In the year B. C. 128 100,000 persons perished by a pestilence arising from the putrefaction of great swarms of dead locusts.

The Lion of Lucerne.
The Lion of Lucerne, the famous monument to Swiss valor, which is one of the world's artistic triumphs, is said to be in danger of disintegration through the action of water upon the rock. The lion monument is an object of national pride in Switzerland and every effort will be made to protect and preserve it. It commemorates the broken of the Swiss guards who were killed while defending the French royal family during the attack on the Tuileries in 1792 and was executed in 1821. The effigy of the dying lion, whose paw still guards the French flag, is twenty-eight feet in length and eighteen feet in height. Few visitors to Switzerland miss this monument, which is carved in a great wall of rock, and every traveler is awed by its simple majesty.—Louth's Companion.

CHICAGO MERCHANT MAKES STATEMENT

After Spending Thousands of Dollars and Consulting the Most Eminent Physicians, He Was Desperate.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Mr. J. G. Becker, of 184 Van Buren St., a well-known wholesale dry goods dealer, states as follows:

"I have had catarrh for more than thirty years. Have tried everything on earth and spent thousands of dollars for other medicines and with physicians, without getting any lasting relief, and can say to you that I have found Pepsin the only remedy that has cured me permanently.

"Pepsin has also cured my wife of catarrh. She always keeps it in the house for an attack of cold, which it invariably cures in a very short time."

Warranted to Make a Hit

"What I want," said the theatrical manager, "is a genuine novelty." "Something realistic," replied the playwright.

Yes; that's the idea.

"How would it do to bring something with real actors in it?"

If you are a sufferer from colds get a bottle of Bick's Catarrh Remedy Syrup and test its qualities. It will be found that no praise bestowed upon it is too high. It is the cleanest, purest for it, and does it thoroughly. Do not take any substitute for Bick's Syrup, because it is the best, having stood the test of years. All the best dealers sell it.

Here, too, is a good tale of another well known writer, George Griffiths, the novelist.

Griffiths seems to have run through the whole gamut of religious and irreligious convictions.

The Nova Scotia "Lumber King" says:

"I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the BEST liniment in use.

"I got my foot badly injured lately. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT and it was as well as ever next day.

"Yours very truly,
T. G. McMULLEN.

Excited Naturalists—"Are you aware, my dear Sir, that the gate which your is the form of an ant-hill?"

"Farmer (apologetically)—"I always thought it was somewhat old like that. I don't match the other post now."

Unless worms be expelled from the system, no child can be healthy.

"Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is the best medicine extant to destroy worms."

Spellbinder (on the stump)—"Gentlemen, in all my travels I have never been approached with a bribe."

Voice from the rear—"Cheer up, old man, your luck may change!"

Costiveness and its Cure.—When the excretory organs refuse to perform their functions properly the intestines become clogged. This is known as costiveness and, if neglected, gives rise to dangerous complications. Farme's Vegetable Pills will effect a speedy cure. At the first intimation of this ailment the sufferer should procure a packet of the pills and put himself under a course of treatment. The good effects of the pills will be almost immediately evident.

ROBBING RAILWAYS.

Tricks Travelers Try to Ride Free of Charge.

In these days of corridor-trains and travelling ticket-examiners, the railway "biker," to avoid detection, must be exceptionally daring and ingenious in his method of stealing a ride.

The railway companies stop up long ago to the old-fashioned dodge of the scamp, who dated the date of an antique return ticket when on his travels, or stowed himself away under the friendly shelter of a railway carriage seat.

Quite recently, though, on one of the northern lines, a dextrous of good position escaped prosecution and exposure only by the contribution of a large sum of money to one of the railway benevolent societies.

Being intimate with a friend who was a first-class contract ticket-holder, he had succeeded in obtaining a sight of the ticket, and when asked for his ticket, he replied "Pass or 'Contract' in matter-of-fact tones that baffled the ticket-examiners time after time. His ingenuity failed in a few instances, and he was gently but firmly asked to show the mysterious "Pass" ticket, and when asked for his ticket, he replied "Pass or 'Contract' in matter-of-fact tones that baffled the ticket-examiners time after time.

He afterwards regularly traveled business class, and when asked for his ticket, he replied "Pass or 'Contract' in matter-of-fact tones that baffled the ticket-examiners time after time. His ingenuity failed in a few instances, and he was gently but firmly asked to show the mysterious "Pass" ticket, and when asked for his ticket, he replied "Pass or 'Contract' in matter-of-fact tones that baffled the ticket-examiners time after time.

Of course, the railway authorities on referring to their records and finding that the ticket was not issued, a contract-ticket was issued, but no further notice about it. Ultimately, however, the reports became so frequent that more stringent measures were made; the rightful owner was threatened with withdrawal of his "contract."

The indignantly denied this, and the railway company straightway laid a trap into which the "pass-holder" fell headlong, inflicting and good scolding on him from the police court, but it cost him a good round sum to square the job.

Riding under a railway-carriage is not a safe or luxurious mode of travel, yet quite a short time ago a man was dragged out from under a railway-carriage at Peterborough on the arrival of a Great Northern express train from London.

Crawling under the carriage, he had wrapped his jacket round one of the wheels, and was seen by the guard, who, on seeing him, ordered him round the roots, and laid down, resting on iron bars. Wearing only a thin coat and shirt and trousers, the man, the poor fellow had stiffened with the terrible draught sweeping under the train at express speed, and this alone had saved his life.

Another foolishly attempt to defraud a railway was made by a sailor who got stranded for lack of cash at Carlisle. Bound to join his ship at Glasgow, he limply mounted the iron steps, and was seen by the guard, who, on seeing him, ordered him round the roots, and laid down, resting on iron bars. Wearing only a thin coat and shirt and trousers, the man, the poor fellow had stiffened with the terrible draught sweeping under the train at express speed, and this alone had saved his life.

How Weather Prophets Work.

Birds are better weather prophets or less sensitive to coming changes in the weather, and by observation of their movements warnings of changes in the weather can be obtained. Sea-birds, we learn from an interesting article in "Watkins's Almanack" for 1910, first appear in search of food on stormy weather coming, and will leave the marshy grounds for higher localities; swallows and rooks fly low before a depression, and the former are unusually noisy; and sheep huddle together near bushes before rain.

In fine weather a ship or vessel will keep dry, and have a somewhat dusty feeling, but with an increase of moisture in the air will become damp and sticky, and the weather will be clear, a grey sky in the morning, a low downy mist in the afternoon, and a few drops of rain in the evening indicate fair weather. A red sky in the morning indicates bad weather or much wind and rain, and a red sky in the evening indicates fair weather and other signs, that much maligned class of people, weather prophets, are able to give us our prophecies.

Mr. Asquith's Little Bill.

During his fifty-seven years, Mr. Asquith has not spent more than an average of four hours a year in bed through illness.

He bids fair, in this respect, to rival his political master, the U. S. A., who spent the young man's life in bed and raised him by one step into the House of Representatives.

Probably Mr. Asquith's good health is largely due to his capacity for innocent enjoyment. Once he went to the Earl's Court Exhibition, with Mr. Balfour, and the pair dashed down the water-chute together, and laughed heartily as they got drenched with spray.

When Mr. Asquith takes his holiday he rises early—he does not believe in late hours—in the morning, and goes for a walk with his correspondence. If time permits, he takes part in several games of tennis, devotes the afternoon to golf, spends the evening in dinner and quiet amusement, and goes early to bed. In fact, when Mr. Asquith makes holiday, he does it thoroughly.

Well Posted.

"Excuse me, ma'am," said the book unavowed to the lady who had opened the door in answer to his knock. "If you have a few moments to spare I'd like to show you the great work of the 'Herald' and 'Seventeen'."

Another Fish Story.

Brown had returned from a fishing expedition, and after partaking of a number of welcome dinners, was relating some of his fishing experiences, says the Buffalo Times.

"I went to the same place this year, and my line had been cast as far as I went, I felt a terrific pull. Eventually I landed a fine fish, which had swallowed the hook, and on cutting it over to release the hook, to my amazement."

"Ah," said his friends, "you found a half-swordfish."

"Oh, no," replied Brown, "I found nine shillings and sixpence in silver and three shillings in copper."

"Well, what became of the other three shillings in copper?"

"I suppose the fish paid to go through the lock with it," answered Mr. W.

Some dinners in America were discussing the merits of different kinds of gamebirds. One preferred wild duck, another woodcock, and still another quail. "I would like the most delicious article of food," the discussion and the dinner ended at about the same time.

"Now," said one of the company to the colored waiter, "what kind of game do you like best?"

"Well, sir, to tell the truth," replied the negro, "almost any kind of bird suits me, but what I like best is a chicken, a single served on a silver dollar."
